ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

The schools of Auburn felt the impact of our war economy more seriously than heretofore. The resignation of Mrs. Eileen Harris necessitated the hiring of a new teacher for the grammar grades at the Village School. Miss Mary Jamrog was transferred to the Village School and Miss Adela Pinas and Miss Evelyn Conway to Severance, Miss Ruth Napier continued as music supervisor. The town is fortunate to retain the services of these experienced teachers. Small graduating classes from teachers colleges, normal withdrawals from teaching and additional withdrawals in excess of normal due to war time conditions are factors which are making more difficult the problem of securing teacher replacements. It is probable that this condition will continue for several years.

An additional source of difficulty due to our war time economy was experienced in the field of text books. For the first time considerable delay in the filling of orders was experienced. The publishers of school textbooks exhausted the quotas assigned and were forced to delay filling of orders. The result has been that some orders are not filled until after a lapse of nine months. This is a situation that will be remedied as soon as paper restrictions are lifted.

Supplies arrived on time and in sufficient quantity so that the work of the school was interfered with only slightly. The restrictions in the field were in the quality of the product. Certain grades of paper were by order of W. P. B. reduced in weight with a resulting decrease in quality. The reduction in weight did not seriously impair the educative process but it is indicative of a trend which may become a matter of serious consequence.

Weather conditions added to the difficulties of the school program. Frequent interruptions in the school program were experienced in January and February. The severity of the winter made it necessary to change the vacation period and to close school on several other occasions.

In addition to the usual repairs on the physical plant the painting of the interior of the Village school and repairs to the chimney at Severance school were completed. Both of these special projects were necessary. The appearance of the Village School was enhanced and in addition the lighting was improved because of greater reflection of the light. The efficiency of the stoves at Severance was increased so that the smoke nuisance of previous years was cut considerable.

The schools continued to participate in the war effort by regularly selling stamps. In addition the children collected milk weed pods in the fall. The floss was used as a substitute for kapok in life preservers. The children collected 29 bags of pods which, according to the Dept. of Agriculture, would furnish floss for 14 life preservers. The sum of $5.80 was turned over as the amount paid for the floss.

BUDGET

The overall budget shows a slight increase of $88.68. Increases in some items are counterbalanced by decreases so that the net overall increase is the above amount. The estimated assets of the school district are decreased by $500.00 so that the tax levy is increased $588.68. In conditions like we are now experiencing where personal costs are increasing this is only to be expected. The question, which may be answered by pending state legislature, as to whether it is temporary or permanent is much more important.

CONCLUSION

The schools of Auburn are feeling the impact of our war economy more severely as time goes on. This condition is one which is country wide and is a matter of concern to all. The superintendent of schools with the help and cooperation of the board is attempting to maintain educational procedure at as near a normal level as possible.

Transportation and the severity of the winter have added to our problems. The situation has not been one of choice but rather one of necessity and the cooperation of teachers, parents and pupils have made it possible to operate schools as regularly as we have been able to do.

The attitude of all concerned with the well being of the schools, pupils, parents, school board and teachers, has been helpful and cooperative. I appreciate the many considerate acts which have made it possible for the schools to operate so well.

Respectfully submitted,

EVERTON H. PARKINSON,
Superintendent of Schools.
